Urges Wider European Market For Americans

TOPEKA, KANS., November 3.—(By the Associated Press)—A wider European market for American products developed either through the war finance corporation or through creation of a Federal corporation should be one of the aims of the coming session of congress, Senator Arthur Capper said in a statement today. He expressed the belief that the farm bloc will participate in a move to enact such legislation as agriculture is believed to need. The senator enumerated an outline of things he believed the congress should do at its coming session. They follow:

- Reduce freight rates on farm products.
- Give every encouragement to co-operative marketing.
- Revise tariff further downward on farmers' necessities.
- Enact the truth in fabrics bill.
- Make further reductions in appropriations.

Enact a soldiers' bonus bill. Provide a constitutional amendment prohibiting further issues of tax free bonds—Federal, state and municipal. ## Parley To

Germany's present capacity to pay, the second points which deals with new methods of payment must necessarily be considered as embracing a long period of time. No country's affairs can be financed on the basis of one or two or three years. Nations deal in thirty and fifty year periods when making international loans. Under the head of "new methods of payment" the proposed commission of experts can express to the world their opinion as to Germany's capacity to pay just as readily as it were a subject by itself.

But there is a fundamental of small importance involved in Premier Poincare's idea of trying to distinguish between Germany's present and future capacity to pay. He would be among the first to admit that Germany can not make her annual payment now but for the sake of the French people and their interests he would not dare to admit that what Germany cannot do today she will be permanently unable to do. In other words, he doesn't want any advice given which will mean a reduction or cancellation of the total debt simply because of Germany's present plight.

What would be Germany's condition when once she received an international loan and her business machinery was revived under the stimulus of a settlement of the entire reparations controversy and the extension of credit to her generally? Mr. Poincare may be willing to admit that some of the sums represented by the so-called "C" bonds may never be paid but he doesn't intend to agree to tear up those bonds. He's like so many Americans who have gathered in paper marks or Russian Kronas. They indulge the hope that may be sometime they will be worth something.

From the American viewpoint it is naturally desirable that the proposed conference get going if it is only to break the dead lock of the last two years and train the eyes of the whole world on the details of the reparations controversy once more. Technical limitations may be made at the outset, but they can not interfere with the publication of data gathered by the experts on all subjects relating to the matter of Germany's present and future payment.

The most plausible explanation here today was that the Department of State had a reason in disclosing pleasure over the French Premier's speech trying to circumscribe and restrict the program of the commission of experts which was to be advisory in nature. It's always disconcerting to ask a man's advice and say to him in advance that he must render only a certain kind of advice.

But the situation will iron itself out in further diplomatic conversations and the probabilities are that unless Premier Poincare is deliberately bent on wrecking the conference idea which is considered incredible here, the parley will be begun under a unanimously agreed upon program for discussion and inquiry.

IF YOU ARE FOR GOOD SCHOOLS

To the Men and Women Voters of Scioto County and Patrons of the Schools:

Greeting:

The people who stand for GOOD SCHOOLS in Scioto County, and by GOOD SCHOOLS we mean the best schools in a district that it can afford, have not carried on a campaign of advertising to hurt anyone's feelings or to discredit any individual or to RUIN THE REPUTATION OF ANY CITIZEN. The opposition by their own nefarious and putrefactive methods have brought upon their own heads that contempt and condemnation by all good citizens which their malicious, venomous and untruthful advertising in the last few days deserve. NO ANSWER NEED BE MADE. The good sense, knowledge of facts and truth of the VOTERS OF THE SCIOTO COUNTY SCHOOL DISTRICT will cause their SATANIC ATTEMPTS to fall of its own weight.

The RIGHTS OF THE PEOPLE are protected by having WRITTEN CONSTITUTIONS AND WRITTEN LAWS. Injustice and tyranny were made impossible in that way. Our written laws are our safeguard. To discredit the SUPREME COURT OF OHIO or to attempt to do so by casting reflection or at least by coming dangerously near doing so is one of the worst things that the opposition could have done. In particular now when REVERENCE FOR LAW AND ORDER is one of our greatest needs. In its decision in the election case of the County Board Candidates kept off the ticket the SUPREME COURT OF OHIO said in substance that this action is like many others where an attempt is made to get through the COURTS what the LAW DENIES. Those who protested were emphatically within their rights as electors and are not justly subject to any criticism. The same rights were enjoyed by all. IT IS LIKELY THAT THE VOTERS OF SCIOTO COUNTY SCHOOL DISTRICT WILL ENTRUST MEN TO RUN THE COUNTY SCHOOLS ON THE COUNTY BOARD OF EDUCATION WHO WERE TOO CARELESS OR WHOSE LEADERS WERE TOO CARELESS TO MAKE OUT SIMPLE NOMINATING PETITIONS CORRECTLY?

WHEN THE OPPOSITION WILL CRITICIZE THE LOCAL ELECTION BOARD, THE SECRETARY OF STATE AND COME DANGEROUSLY NEAR CRITICIZING THE SUPREME COURT OF OHIO AND WHEN IT FREELY ATTACKS THE INTEGRITY OF DIFFERENT INSPECTORS FROM THE STATE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION WHAT WILL IT NOT STOOP TO? Its place in a class of citizenship is determined by its own expression.

Two years ago in the malicious campaign made unjustly and personally against County Superintendent E. O. McCowen, a statement in his behalf by ONE HUNDRED SCHOOL BOARD MEMBERS OF SCIOTO COUNTY WAS MADE setting clearly aside all charges of BOSSISM. THE SCHOOL BOARD MEMBERS OF SCIOTO COUNTY RESENT THE STATEMENT BY THE OPPOSITION THAT THEY ARE DOMINEERED OVER, AND WILL SHOW NEXT TUESDAY, ELECTION DAY, IN A DECISIVE WAY THAT SUCH UNJUST ACCUSATIONS CANNOT GO UNPUNISHED. The people who elected them equally resent the same and will vote for ORD THOMPSON, of McDermott, and CARL J. HERMS, of Wheelersburg, for County Board of Education. THERE IS NO DOUBT ABOUT THE RESULTS. BUT THE VOTERS WILL TAKE NO CHANCE OF THOSE GETTING IN CONTROL WHO HAVE ALREADY SHOWN BY THEIR ADVERTISING WHAT KIND OF MEN THEY ARE.

The placing of high school advantages within the reach of all of the children of Scioto county, the development and establishing of many new buildings to provide better school advantages and the splendid financial condition of all state aid districts of Scioto County are a sufficient answer against all undeserved criticism. For those things and for many others too numerous to mention County Superintendent E. O. McCowen deserves his share of the credit and receives it too from the hundreds of men who have served on the SCHOOL BOARDS of Scioto County and who are now serving on them and from the THOUSANDS of men and women in Scioto County who are well aware of this great work.

We are proud of the fact that vilification and mean abuse has not been a part of our campaign.

The great body of the teaching force of Scioto County call upon the voters to rebuke in no uncertain tone the methods and abuse of the opposition by giving an overwhelming majority as they doubtless will to ORD THOMPSON and CARL J. HERMS for Members of the County Board of Education. Their splendid record for the BEST SCHOOLS is well known. All who are interested in the cause of GOOD SCHOOLS join in this call.

You will KEEP THE SCHOOLS SAFE and VOTE FOR

X Carl J. Herms
X Ord Thompson

Respectfully submitted,

Bureau Wins Test Case

Although a decision favorable to the Farm Bureau had been rendered some time ago, W. J. Knittle, of Union Township, attempted to evade the decision by refusing to pay his second and third-year dues to the Farm Bureau. The case against Knittle was taken up in the court of Squire N. C. Isbell, of near Rushtown, and it was settled when Knittle paid the $20 in question and the court costs, according to W. L. Dickey, attorney for the Farm Bureau.

The case centered around the contracts of the bureau, by which membership was taken out when it was first formed three years ago, on a three-year contract, dues to be payable annually at the rate of $10 a year.

Knittle, the bureau alleged, paid his first year's dues and failed to pay the other two years' assessments, when due, still was brought by the bureau, which regarded itself as fortified by a favorable decision in a recent test case in the same circumstances.

Chillicothe H. Bests Greenfield

CHILLICOTHE, November 3.—In one of the roughest games of the season the Chillicothe High School eleven defeated Greenfield High here Friday by a score of 26-0 and won second place in the South Central Ohio School League. The visitors were scrappy and gave Chillicothe stubborn resistance. Greenfield tried 37 phases and completed seven for short gains. Chillicothe tried four and completed one for a touchdown. Blaze of Greenfield, was ordered out of the game for deliberately slugging.

GAS HEATER SALE

During the next ten days we will offer all sizes of Reznor Gas Heaters at greatly reduced prices. This stove is perhaps better known to Portsmouth people than any other heater. Consider its advantages. It is absolutely odorless, no carbon monoxide from a Reznor. It is portable. It burns on a quarter ounce gas pressure, you get heat when most stoves are cold on low gas pressure. When flu connections are not to be had a Reznor heater is the one to install. What more could one ask of a stove? They are wonderful for bath rooms. You are overlooking a big value if you do not inspect the Foster combination gas and coal range. Users of them are emphatic with their praise of this stove. The low price we have on this range will astonish you. It carries an unconditional guarantee.

FIRE SWEEPS THROUGH TURLEY BUILDING; LOSS $200,000

LOSSES OF TENANTS PARTIALLY COVERED BY INSURANCE; FIREMEN FOUGHT ST UBBORN BLAZE FOR 8 HOURS; OWNERS WILL REBUILD

Fire, between walls which the firemen could not reach, spread slowly through the Turkey building, the big, three-story brick structure at Second and Chillicothe streets, containing five large business rooms and a large number of smaller ones, being completely gutted. Sections of the building not reached by the voracious flames were badly damaged by heat, smoke and water this morning. When local insurance men visited the building it was their opinion that the loss would probably reach $200,000 with the greater part of the damage covered by insurance.

Chief Robert Leedom and owners of the building this morning could not say definitely what caused the fire which had its origin in the basement, ate its way between the partition walls to the roof and spread out under the roof. The blaze proved one of the most stubborn the firemen have had to combat in years. Firemen who have been in the various companies a long time said last night that all the big fires in the history of the city the one last night was the hardest they ever had to deal with as it was next to impossible to get to the flames to halt their progress. The seat of the fire was in the basement under the W. W. Reilly & Company's store and the Jackson and Son barber shop. The fire at first appeared to be only a slight basement blaze which would be easily extinguished a few minutes after the firemen arrived. Persons who visited the scenes when the firemen were battling in the basement, later went home in the belief that it did not amount to much but while the firemen were making every effort to get to the fire in the basement the flames were leaping up between the walls at such a rate of speed that they were beyond control when they finally burst into the open.

Square Threatened
An entire business square was threatened by the blaze, the other buildings being of frame construction to the north of the Turkey building. Close watch was kept on the structures by occupants. The salvage and Chapman and Kennerly's shops occupy these frame structures. The fact that there was no wind and that the flames shot straight up played a big part in keeping the fire confined to the extensive brick structure.

The firms to suffer the greatest loss on the ground floor were the Atlantic Pacific grocery store and the Reilly book store where the stock was of such proportion that it could not be readily moved. The other big losers in the first floor business rooms were Max Tausig of the Ohio Valley Shoe and Clothing Company and Jackson and Son. The business firms have insurance and today it was their belief that the greater part of the damage would be covered. R. P. Seiler music store owner, and John Vetter, tailor, removed most of their stock and had but slight damage. Damage in the Tausig store was to shoes on the shelves, all the stocks on the tables being removed to places of safety by willing hands.

Roof Destroyed
The flames on the upper floors destroyed the roof and communicated to most of the offices on the third floor. The majority of the offices of the second floor escaped serious damage, but valuable papers and many volumes of law books were damaged by water.

The big losers on the top floor were Attorney A. T. Holcomb, E. E. Barnhart of the Scioto Valley Branch, Ohio Sunday School Association, the Jackson Beauty parlor, J. A. Liggett, accountant and the City Coal Company on the second street side of the building. The Philo S. Clark Company and Prudential Life Insurance Company Chillicothe street side of the building. Four rooms facing the rear corner facing on two alleys were unoccupied. Fire burned through the roof on the Second and Chillicothe street sides and allowed large sections to fall on the offices on the third floor. One of the rooms facing the rear was occupied by the Master Plumbers' Association until the first of last month. Desk and

The fire had its origin about eight o'clock in the basement. The big furnace which supplies heat for the building is under the hallway in front of the Jackson barber shop. Under the barbershop was a back room with the usual hot water tank. No fire was in the rear part of the basement of the Reilly store but some advanced the opinion that considerable paper stored there might have caused a fire to start from spontaneous combustion.

Alarm Sounded
When the fire was first discovered smoke was seen coming from the back of the Turkey building. An alarm was turned in from Second and Chillicothe streets and companies 1 and 2 from the Seventh street and East End stations responded. Firemen rushed to the rear of the Jackson barber shop and Reilly book store. Mr. Reilly was at the back door of his store and informed firemen the fire was not in thought to have been burning in the partition wall downstairs under the book store. Firemen pushed in the back door of the barber shop which was filled with dense smoke. They were unable to get into the basement through the shop. To get to the basement from the outside an iron grating was lifted and a basement window leading into the book store was smashed. A stream from one hose was poured into the basement through this window. As smoke prevented the firemen from seeing into the basement it was thought that the one stream would soon drown out the fire. Instead the smoke in the building increased until it filled the other store rooms and then the offices on the second and third floors. A second line of hose was brought into use. The back door of the book store was broken in and a hole cut through the floor to provide a place for a line of hose. A hole was cut through the floor of the barber shop and a stream poured into the basement through this entrance to the basement.

Smoke Is Dense
Smoke continued to pour from the basement and the crowd of onlookers crowded closer around the firemen and hampered them instead of standing back to give them room to move about. When smoke was seen coming from the sidewalk on the first floor of the book store and the wall was hot someone hit the wall with a hand of wall paper and the partially burned wall readily gave away.

A red glare from that small hole indicated the flames were shooting up between the wall. With lath and plaster on each side of the partition the narrow passage way between the wall formed a regular tunnel through which the flames were found a vent. Additional fire fighting apparatus was summoned and the New Boston company responded, the Hilltop company filling in at the East End station. Several more lines of hose were laid and an attempt was made to fight the fire from the second floor hallway. Before firemen were exactly sure where the flames were creeping to escape burst forth under the roof of the rear part of the building. The fire found its way under this roof to the north wing of the building, and while firemen were bending every effort to extinguish the flames under the rear wing roof, the tongues of flames leaped out from the roof of the thirty-story north wing. Attention of firemen was then directed to the top of this section of the structure. Streams were poured into the third floor windows and on the roof from the two alleys, Chillicothe street, the rear wing and two story stable back of the Alexandria Apartments. Later the firemen on the stable back of the Alexandria and directed one line of hose from there, and at the same time watched sparks falling on roofs of adjoining structures.

Siding Falls
The fire under the south wing of the east end of the north wing caused a large section of sheet-iron siding to fall to the rear wing. The brick walls were falling and many in the crowd retreated to places of safety. The Hilltop company was called and they soon had three more lines on the fire.

As the sheet-iron fell, Frank Reilly was on a ladder ten feet from where it broke from the building, while Lou Noel, Ray Elwell and Captain Charles Partlow were at the foot of the ladder. Persons who saw the section of wall fall thought at first that it was brick and looked for Ray to be carried from his position on the ladder. Later he said he held it off with the hose nozzle. The three men at the bottom of the ladder also had a narrow escape. The sheet-iron just brushed Noel's leg. Ray is from the Hilltop station. Noel from the East End and Elwell and Partlow from Seventh street.

The fire was under control in the north wing, but no sooner had the flames been quenched to some extent than they broke out under the roof of the front section of the structure and south wing. The flames were fought from the front of the building until they were driven to the back end of the south wing. It was about midnight when the fire seemed under control, with no danger of its spreading to adjoining property.

The fire in the charred timbers still demanded attention and for two hours more several streams of water were poured into the building. The firemen not letting up in their work until they were sure there was no chance for another breaking out of the flames.

The East End pumper was stationed at Second and Chillicothe streets pumping from one of the few remaining cisterns in the city. A water main leading into the cisterns could be pumped out, showing that the water works was giving splendid pressure. The Seventh street pumper was at Third and Chillicothe, the New Boston at Second and Gay, and the Hilltop at Fourth and Chillicothe. All told, 19 high-pressure lines were used on the fire. Firemen said that practically all available hose in the possession of each company was used, making a total footage that equaled almost a mile.

The city's entire fire-fighting force of 27 firemen, including all the day men and those off duty yesterday, were called into action and they labored hard to halt the spread of the flames.

The entire night force of police were called to the scene, when it was seen that the structure was doomed. Several of the police were also on hand to help keep back the crowds and to watch property removed to places of safety.

Only a few minor injuries were reported among the firemen. Jack Warden, of the Seventh-street engine house, suffered a bruised knee when a timber fell on him. Chief Leedom and those off duty several hours at the fire, but after leaving the scene for awhile returned.

Assistant Chief R. L. Shumate suffered a possible broken arm. When firemen were unable to break the windows on the third floor with strong arms, Chief Leedom men brought their revolvers into play and shattered the windows with well-aimed shots. Chief Distel and Lowell Seely used a shot gun on some of the windows, while Battery B boys also broke some windows with shots. Boys assisted by throwing rocks through the windows.

ORVILLE WOLFE OVERCOME
Orville Wolfe, salesman for the Gilgrove Co., was partially overcome by the flames when he was attempting to save valuable records from the Philo S. Clark Insurance Agency offices on the third floor. Raising a window in the front of the building, Wolfe waved, attracting the attention of bystanders. Firemen and civilians raised a ladder to the window, rescuing him. Chief Leedom, who had gone into the office from the interior of the building, was forced by smoke to make his exit by the ladder.

SECOND FIRE
The Turkey Building was built about 1905, shortly after the Norfolk and Western shops came to Portsmouth. In its history it has been the scene of two fires, including the destructive blaze of last night.

In 1907, the Ben Davis store, which then occupied the rooms now tenanted by the A. and P. grocery and the Reilly book store, burned. The balance of the building was not seriously damaged, however. The fire was caused by crossed wires.

GILBERT GROCERY CO. FIRE RECALLED
In the big crowd there were many who recalled the Gilbert Grocery Co. fire.

The Gilbert fire, it will be remembered, started as a small fire, burning down through the walls, until the entire building was gutted, as in the case of the Turkey building.

WILL TAKE UP REBUILDING
At twelve-forty-five this morning, with the fire out, and firemen patrolling for safety sake, Will Miller, agent in charge of the building, stated that reconstruction plans would probably take some definite shape in a few days.

The building is owned by L. C. Turkey, Ed. T. Reed and Mrs. Philo S. Clark.

Mrs. Clark is ill at her home on Second street, and was told about the fire early this morning.

FIRE ON HILLTOP
Shortly after the first alarm was sounded in calling out the city's fire fighting force for the Turkey building fire an alarm was turned in from Seventeenth and Mound streets.

Hilltop station, which had not yet been called to the downtown fire, as its seriousness had not become apparent, answered the call and extinguished a blaze which was threatening a Ford machine belonging to George W. Agee well known engineer of Mound street. The blaze was extinguished with small loss, and the Hilltop station was then rushed to Second and Chillicothe streets.

THREE BIG FIRES
Nineteen twenty-three is a record year for big fires in Portsmouth. Three have already occurred:

1. The Leedom store fire.
2. The Brewster building.
3. The Turkey building.

The first two occurred in the early hours of the morning.

Later in the fall of 1922, about a year ago, the Jewett flour mill fire occurred.

BOY SCOUTS ON JOB
Scout Executive L. T. Henderson and 33 Boy Scouts were on the job early and kept the crowd back in good shape. They also helped to carry goods to places of safety. Troop 12 meeting in Bilelow when the alarm was given turned out 100 per cent and assisted the firemen.

NEW BOSTON COMPANY HELPS
The New Boston fire company re-

tenants in the building were as follows:

First Floor
Ohio Valley Clothing company, John Vetter, merchant tailor, John H. Jackson & Son, barbers, W. W. Reilly & Co., wall paper and book store.

Second Floor
A. and P. Store, R. P. Seiler, music dealer, N. & W. claim department, City Engineer Holmes, offices, Metropolitan Life Insurance Co., Henry Supt. E. O. McCowen, Attorney Theo. K. Funk and Judge Osborn.

Third Floor
Philo S. Clark company, Prudential Life Insurance Company, J. A. Liggett, accountant, and City Coal Company.

Fourth Floor
J. H. Jackson, Beauty Parlor, Judge A. T. Holcomb, E. E. Barnhart, S. S. worker, Seiler Piano Company.

Fifth Floor
R. P. Seiler, music dealer, who occupied the north room on the ground floor had 31 pianos in his place of business when notified of the fire. There were all kinds of places of safety along Chillicothe street. Pits directing the morning. "I had over 500 music rolls in the basement and they are a total loss, but my loss in general is small and well covered by insurance," Mr. Seiler told a Morning Star reporter.

Sixth Floor
Martin Collier, manager of the A. & P. Store adjoining the Seiler store said he could not estimate his firm's loss. Goods from the store were carried to his home, 210 Chillicothe street, but not much was saved.

Second street, Mr. Tausig's firm recently received $5,000 worth of goods which were only partially insured. He opened his store in the corner room three years ago. "My friends certainly came to my rescue and I wish to thank them," Mr. Tausig told a Morning Star reporter last night.

The Vetter Store
John Vetter, merchant tailor in one of the ground floor rooms carried most of his woolsens to Alex M. Glockner's salesrooms across the street. Mr. Vetter's loss is trivial and he is not insured.

"My chief loss will be loss of business," Mr. Vetter said last night.

W. W. Reilly & Co.
W. W. Reilly & Company saved a portion of their books and fixtures but not a great deal. John G. Reilly, head of the company, says his firm lost about $100,000 worth of stock and less than $7,000 insurance. "We worked fast to save the stock but the dense smoke hampered the willing workers and they were soon forced to leave our stock a prey of the water and flames," Mr. Reilly said.

John H. Jackson & Son, Turkey building barbers saved most of their equipment and tools. Barbers H. O. Williams and Roland Tanner saved all of their tools as they were soon at the shop, after being notified that the fire was spreading. J. H. Jackson said a double loss as his beauty parlor on the third floor was entirely wiped out. He stated last night that his loss was not fully covered by insurance.

Upper Floor Tenants
Tenants in the upper floors were unable to estimate their losses last night, but in the morning the losses will be 100 per cent with small insurance as they were able to save only a few books and office equipment. Some of the officers were not unlocked so rapidly did the flames spread. Most of the tenants will get busy today to seek at least temporary quarters in order to lose no business.

Philo S. Clark
In a desperate effort to save valuable books in the offices of the Philo S. Clark company on the third floor Wm. Miller, caretaker of the building and Orville Wolfe, a volunteer, had a close call from being overcome by smoke. They were rescued on the third floor and carried safely down a ladder quickly put up against the building. Mr. Miller did not revive for an hour. He stated that his firm lost about $100,000.

Street car service on the round trip over the entire line was cut off from 5:30 p. m. until 3 a. m. Mainline cars were turned at Third and Chillicothe until the Hilltop pumper was put into operation at Fourth and Chillicothe streets. Lines of hose then crossed the tracks and it was necessary to turn the cars at the Offshore street station. Workers coming home from the New Boston plants and N. and W. Terminals had to walk from Offshore street west. About 3 o'clock this morning the temporary line across the car tracks were removed and traffic over the entire line was resumed.

K. of C's Fed Hungry Firemen
Members of the Knights of Columbus worked valiantly last night dishing out hot coffee and ham sandwiches. The K. of C. men organized for service about 9 o'clock when it became evident that the firemen would be on the job for some time. Men were sent to different stores to get bread, ham and coffee, while the club's kitchen equipment was hurriedly set to work.

Several hundred sandwiches were handed out and a number of gallons of coffee distributed. A big lunch can full of coffee and a tray of sandwiches was left at the police station at 1 o'clock and a late as 3 o'clock firemen were coming in there to get coffee and something to eat.

Ten pounds of rolled ham were used in the sandwiches. When no more could be obtained from grocery stores a supply was purchased at the Manhattan restaurant. Other sandwiches of cheese and egg were also supplied.

Those Who Suffered Losses In the Fire

lost records of over 30 years standing and that they could not be replaced.

City Engineer's Office
City Engineer E. J. Holmes stated last night that most of the records in his office on the Second floor had been saved. Assistant Engineer E. H. McMillan was right on the job and actually risked his life to save the valuable records of his office. He was ably assisted by E. D. Wall, rodman in the engineer's office.

Greek King Is Held Prisoner, Friends In Fear Over His Fate

LONDON, Nov. 3.—There is much anxiety in Greek royalist circles and among the people of Greece regarding the fate of their king, who is a prisoner within the borders of the country and under constant surveillance, says a correspondent of the Daily Mail, who was recently in Athens. He says the reason the king did not attend the recent christening of his nephew at Belgrade was that the revolutionary government would not permit him to leave the country for fear he might not return.

Only the lives of the king and his brother, Prince Paul, the correspondent points out, stand between Venizelos and a dictatorship.

The avowed aim of the Venizelists is a republic, but it must be a civilian republic. The Venizelist leaders will have nothing to do with the thought of military domination. The only party that can preserve the dynasty, according to the writer, is that led by Gen. Metaxas, whose recent movement failed because the rank and file of the army refused to join in the reaction which has been in progress for many months throughout Greece in favor of liberty, which the Gonatas government has suppressed. This failure has caused the Venizelists to intensify their campaign against the king.

Mother And Child Slain By Robbers; Chloroform Used

PITTSBURGH, PA., Nov. 3.—Mrs. William E. Robinson, 25, the wife of a building contractor, and her 2-year-old son were found dead in bed in their home at Hays, near here last night by Robinson upon his return home from his day's work. Also $3,300 which had been placed in a dresser drawer was missing. The bodies of both the woman and child were unmarked and county detectives believe that they had been chloroformed in their sleep by thieves. There were no signs of a struggle. They both had handkerchiefs bound over their mouths. Dr. J. R. Newell of Hays, who made a preliminary examination of the bodies, said he found a slight trace of poisoning.

The bodies of the two were found on the second floor of the home. On a couch on the first floor Robinson found his two-months-old child asleep. She had not been molested. Robinson told the police that he had received $3,300 Thursday for a contracting job that he had completed and that he had intended to deposit the money in a bank this morning. When he left home in the morning to supervise a job in a neighboring town he forgot the money, allowing it to remain in a small box in a dresser in the room in which his wife and son were found dead.

Eight Persons Arrested in Jam Near Lloyd George Meeting

NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—Eight persons were arrested near the Metropolitan Opera House, where Lloyd George, war premier of Great Britain was speaking last night, when Irish Republican sympathizers attempted to hold a mass meeting on the street. Patrolmen's caps were knocked from their heads by placards the sympathizers were carrying.

Police fought a hand to hand battle with a large group that gathered on Fortieth street, near Broadway. Many carried signs bearing the picture of Eamon De Valera, while others were inscribed with phrases complimentary to the British visit.

The area about the Metropolitan Opera House was guarded by 250 patrolmen and 150 detectives. Before Mr. Lloyd George arrived the crowds that pressed about to get a glimpse of him were so great that a traffic jam resulted. Theatergoers became angered when they were held up for several minutes by the throng.

Mounted police finally charged the crowd that surged about the blue coats. Hundreds of persons were driven back to Sixth avenue while here and there a patrolman grabbed one of the group and placed them under arrest. Several of those so caught were women.

Mr. Lloyd George missed seeing the Irish Republican sympathizers.

NERVY ATTEMPT OF MR. E. O. McCOWEN TO DECEIVE VOTERS OF VALLEY TOWNSHIP ENDS IN MISERABLE FAILURE.

THE PEOPLE, FILLING THE LUCASVILLE COMMUNITY HALL, EXPRESS THEIR APPROVAL OF PROF. H. H. DRUHOT'S UNEXPECTED REPLY TO MR. McCOWEN'S PERSONAL ATTACK UPON HIM BY WILD APPLAUSE.

Most important statements of Mr. McCowen refuted by unquestioned evidence.

Mr. McCowen's self-announced ally, State Inspector, did not appear.

About two weeks ago the High School charter of the Lucasville schools mysteriously disappeared. Every one was in suspense. No word from any quarter was received by the local Board of Education for a week or more. Everyone wanted to know—and its disappearance was being used by the McCowen confederates to discredit the present Board of Education, the present superintendent of the school and the school itself. So when Mr. McCowen announced through some of his accomplices that he, together with the State Inspector, would come to Lucasville and tell the people to their faces what was wrong with their schools and why the charter was taken, everyone was expectant and the McCowen adherents in high glee.

Unfortunately for Mr. McCowen's plans the Board of Education sent a committee with Prof. Druhot to state headquarters to learn the cause—and when their side of the argument was heard by the state officials the charter was restored to their hands and was again hanging in its accustomed place when McCowen came to make his speech.

And then, to spoil it all, the state inspector did not come to lend the dignity and authority of his office to Mr. McCowen's political assistance, as everybody knew he would not.

So Mr. McCowen had to rely entirely upon his own efforts in a trying situation. The audience was quiet and respectful and listened attentively to his remarks.

He went back into past history and attempted to show why the charter had been taken several times in the past 8 or 10 years.

He cited the fact that the charter was taken in 1918 when Louis McKinley was superintendent of the schools. He was careful to explain to the people that he had not started the investigation which resulted in the charter's revocation in an attempt to place all the blame on Mr. McKinley and the state officials and thus square himself with the voters present. He stated that his first knowledge of the affair was when he received a command from the state authorities to investigate the situation at Lucasville which was the outcome of admissions made to the state department by Mr. McKinley himself. He admitted that he reported the facts which were unfavorable and on his report and recommendation the charter was revoked. He admitted that at this time our country was at war with Germany.

He then eulogized Prof. Stafford, who followed Mr. McKinley the following year, calling the attention to the fact that during Mr. Stafford's illness he helped out the schools all he could, even going so far as to teach for him a few days. He remarked that Prof. Stafford brought the schools to a much higher standard during his administration.

However, he said the Board seemed to be dissatisfied with Prof. Stafford and desired to hire a Mr. Morrison from Adams county. He admitted that he desired Prof. Stafford to remain another year. While the School Board voted almost if not unanimously, that they did not desire Prof. Stafford to remain another year and since the board and he could not agree the Board had hired Mr. Morrison over his head. He said he refused to nominate Mr. Morrison because he was unethical in making an application before Prof. Stafford had been discharged. But Mr. Morrison did not accept the place after all, and on his (McCowen's) nomination, though contrary to his best judgment, the Board hired Prof. H. H. Druhot with whom he got along very nicely for the first year.

He then preluded his remarks about the taking of the charter again the following year by stating that after the first year he let Prof. Druhot alone and whatever good there was in the schools was to Prof. Druhot's credit and also that whatever blame or discredit the schools had suffered should be placed at his door, thus holding him personally responsible for the loss of the charter last spring. He read the charges against the schools, commenting on them as he went and laying particular emphasis upon the fact that Prof. Druhot would not cooperate with him, especially calling attention of the audience to one occasion on which he had notified Mr. Druhot of a meeting of the county school superintendents which had been called and which Mr. Druhot had not attended. He admitted that this notice was sent to Mr. Druhot during the summer months when he probably was not at Lucasville, yet he had addressed the letter to him at Lucasville—not knowing his home address. He then complained that the Board of Education had again rehired Mr. Druhot this year without consulting him and again explained, as he had already done several times, that he, as County Superintendent, did not like to have superintendents of the local schools employed by the boards of education who were not responsible to him.

Mr. McCowen concluded his remarks by referring to the loss of the charter again about two weeks ago under such mysterious circumstances and said it was due to the fact that the board and Mr. Druhot had not met the requirements made last spring and read the inspector's report in full.

The chairman of the evening then announced that there being no other speakers present the meeting would be dismissed. Whereupon Joseph H. Brant arose and said there were others who would like to say a few words, and the audience raising no objections Mr. Brant said that he thought Superintendent Druhot had the first right to the floor if he cared to make any remarks.

PROF. H. H. DRUHOT TAKES THE FLOOR

Not having anticipated that such an unethical, ungentlemanly and personal attack would be made at a public meeting upon him he was caught unprepared and with reluctance but with righteous indignation and determination written plainly upon his features, Prof. Druhot arose and faced the audience. After standing silently for a minute in a visible effort to control himself and collect his thoughts he began quietly and carefully to take up the several accusations that had been made against him.

DRUHOT ACCEPTS RESPONSIBILITY

He referred first to the statement made by Mr. McCowen that whatever the Lucasville schools are, whether good or bad, must be borne by him (Mr. Druhot). Then he took up in connection with this one of the statements in the charges that the Lucasville school was overcrowded. He said that he was willing to accept that responsibility and cited the fact that the enrollment in the Lucasville schools had doubled under his administration and that there were more pupils coming from other townships to Lucasville High Schools than there were from Valley Township, and he asked the people if these facts indicated poor schools. So conclusive and unanswerable were his arguments that the audience cheered loudly.

DRUHOT SHOWS UP McCOWEN FOR WHAT HE IS

Then Mr. Druhot took up Mr. McCowen's charge that he (Mr. Druhot) did not attend a certain meeting of the superintendents of the county—after he had been notified of same. You will recall that Mr. McCowen had said that he did not know Mr. Druhot's address. Mr. Druhot questioned this statement by asserting that Mr. McCowen did know his home address. AND THEN, TO THE CHAGRIN AND MORTIFICATION OF MR. McCOWEN AND HIS ASSOCIATES MR. DRUHOT PRODUCES THE IDENTICAL LETTER THAT MR. McCOWEN ADMITTED HE WROTE. THIS LETTER SHOWED A POST MARK OF 1 P. M. THE DAY BEFORE THE MEETING WAS SCHEDULED, WHICH PROVED BEYOND ALL POSSIBLE DOUBT THAT MR. McCOWEN HAD MAILED THAT LETTER WITH A FULL KNOWLEDGE THAT MR. DRUHOT COULD NOT POSSIBLY RECEIVE IT IN TIME TO ATTEND THAT MEETING. HE ASKED THE PEOPLE HOW HE COULD CO-OPERATE WITH A MAN OF THAT TYPE. THE PEOPLE APPLAUDED ENTHUSIASTICALLY.

NOW MR. McCOWEN GETS NERVOUS

To sit there quietly and hear his own words, his own admissions, branding him for the sort of man he is, to have his dishonorable and disgraceful methods held up to this audience that he had hoped to cleverly deceive was more than his cringing nature could endure. And then, whether in a calculated attempt merely to distract the speaker, Mr. Druhot, and confuse him, or whether he thought his action might cause sufficient bewilderment that the people would forget the things that were said; whether he thought the papers were really his or merely desired to make away with Mr. Druhot's notes so that he would be embarrassed in the latter part of his talk, Mr. McCowen silently arose and advanced from the side toward some papers that Mr. Druhot had placed behind him on the platform—and when near enough he grabbed them. At the same moment Prof. Druhot sensing foul play turned round and secured a grip on the papers before Mr. McCowen could get away with them. There was a tense moment, then Mr. Druhot took the papers from his grasp and calmly showed them to his opponent one by one. Mr. McCowen apologized to the audience in a shamefaced way that he thought those papers were his. Mr. Druhot made a clever reply and the audience roared for nearly a minute while Mr. McCowen, humiliated, took his seat.

Conclusively Prof. Druhot took up the other charges and showed the audience that Mr. McCowen's pleas that he had no ill will toward Lucasville schools, were empty words only and that his whole program was one of destruction.

In closing he said that he had been hired by the Lucasville people, that he owed his allegiance and his devotion to Lucasville schools and he meant to stick with them so long as he was employed. He ended feelingly by saying that he had spent three years across the seas to stamp out Kaiserism and he would continue to fight it in the schools or anywhere else.

JOSEPH BRANT MAKES A FEW REMARKS

Mr. Joseph Brant then took the floor and denied the accusations made by Mr. McCowen that the Board of Education when he was a member would not affiliate with him. He told of the various times they had "buried the hatchet" and made solemn pacts and that Mr. McCowen had been the one to break them. Several times, Mr. A. F. Millar, who was a member of the board at that time, corroborated Mr. Brant's statements.

MR. CLYDE BRANT REFUTES MR. McCOWEN'S STATEMENTS ABOUT MR. LOUIS MCKINLEY

Mr. McCowen in discussing the cause of the removal of the Lucasville charter in 1918 said that it was because Mr. McKinley had one grade teacher teaching high school history for several months without a high school certificate as REQUIRED BY LAW, and that another teacher taught several high school branches CONTRARY TO LAW.

Mr. McKinley being at a bank meeting in Portsmouth was not present, and Mr. Brant having in his possession a statement of Mr. McKinley's voluntarily written on election day two years ago and posted on the doors of the Masonic lodge volunteered to offer this letter in Mr. McKinley's defense. Here is Mr. McKinley's statement.

CITIZENS OF VALLEY TOWNSHIP:

I have not been and am not now, directly concerned in the contest for election of County Board of Education members. But I wish to offer the following in vindication of my and other school officials active with me at the time, and upon whom Mr. E. O. McCowen's card published November 7th. might cast some reflection in the minds of those not familiar with the situation during the school year 1917-18.

Two statements occur in that letter as follows:

"In the year 1918 your Superintendent had one grade teacher teaching High School history for several months without a high school certificate as required by law."

This statement is true.

NEXT: "Later another teacher taught several high school branches CONTRARY TO LAW."

This statement is not a correct one.

In consideration of the first:

One high school teacher resigned in January, 1918. No other could be secured for her place.

Previously I had asked Mr. McCowen about teachers for our school. He knew of none available. Inquiry was made at the state office and other sources for some one to fill the vacancy. None except Dean Richeson of Ohio University, (Athens), were able to make a recommendation. He had just one, whom he spoke highly of regarding character and scholarship, teaching ability not certain, she not having any experience as teacher. Finally this girl refused to come for two reasons: Salary too low and subjects not to her liking.

Each of the high school teachers remaining carried all the work possible. If history had not been taught by grade teacher some other high school subject must necessarily have been or that part of the school work closed entirely.

General History was so conducted for 41-2 months, last half of the year.

In regard to the second statement quoted, the facts are these:

No other high school branch was carried by other than qualified high school teachers until May first, 1918. Then the second call for troops took one of our teachers, about 3 weeks before the end of the term.

Because of more class work than usual and the additional burden incident to closing of school, the search for a teacher could not be made extensive even as in January preceding.

But every effort was made to secure another. None was obtained. The year's work was practically completed so one high school class was conducted for two weeks by the minister.

I have no apology for the procedure. It seems that it was almost as good as could have been made under a series of difficult situations.

Teachers were equally as hard to obtain as any other class of workers at that time.

Mr. Brant pointed-out that while as he claimed, Mr.

McCowen may not have started this trouble, yet after the state had asked him to investigate, it was on his (McCowen's) report that action was taken. He called the people's attention to the fact that this happened in war times—that after every possible attempt—an appeal to Supt. McCowen, to state headquarters and elsewhere no teachers were available—because so many of them had been called to the colors. Mr. McCowen was the prosecutor—it was he who took advantage of a crippled school and had the charter revoked. That while he had in after years taught for Mr. Stafford, and in every way possible helped him—yet he did not help Mr. McKinley but used his influence to harm him and the children of Valley Township. Mr. Brant remarked that Mr. McCowen might make a good sheriff because he was so efficient in applying the LAW on Valley Township.

Mr. J. H. Brant then made a few more remarks and the assemblage dispersed.

The war is over — the kaiser is down and out. But we still have with us a county school superintendent who sat idly by and watched the charters of good schools revoked, punishing children and depriving them of their natural rights because he didn't like the school superintendent or board of education. He has publicly denounced good teachers and used the most unscrupulous and dastardly methods against them. Others, he has flattered, given power and authority who did not deserve it. He has jollied or bullied Boards of Education as he thought the occasion might require. And now he has defied the people and attempted to force them to vote for and re-elect his confederates. Is there nothing he will not stoop to do? Is there no end to the patience of a long suffering people? How long will they put up with it? The election is near; red blooded American voters will rebel and vote to put a stop to all these school troubles by writing names on the ballot and marking an X in front of each. Vote for both

Convicted of Libel;
Paper Also "Guilty"

NEWARK, N. J., Nov. 3.—Lucius Russell, editor of the Newark Morning Ledger and the Ledger Publishing Company, were found guilty of criminal libel by a jury late today. Bail was continued at $1,500 pending the setting of a date for sentence. The suit was brought by Prosecutor John O. Bigelow, who charged that the editor had criminally libeled him in two editorials in which it alleged declaration was made that the prosecutor's office protected criminals. Mr. Russell, in his own defense, contended that the editorials were legitimate criticism of the prosecutor's office and were not directed against the incumbents personally. In the course of his testimony Mr. Russell admitted that he had shot a man in Texas in self-defense when he was attacked for printing an editorial in his paper there in which he charged the local authorities with protecting gamblers.

Papyrus Sold By Owner, Is Report

LONDON, Nov. 3.—Papyrus, winner of the English Derby and recently defeated by Zev at Belmont Park, has been sold by his owner, Ben Irish, according to the Morning Post. Mr. Irish, the paper adds, declines to divulge the price or the buyer for the present, but says his is satisfied and that the horse will not leave England, but will remain in the hands of his present trainer, Basil Jarvis. The 2-year-old is said to be none the worse for his American adventure.

Conrad Roth and E. C. Jackson
Candidates for School Board

At the earnest solicitation of their many friends—men and women who are anxious to keep the Portsmouth schools free from politics, E. C. Jackson and Conrad Roth, whose names were ruled off the ticket because of a mere technicality, have decided to actively enter the campaign for members of the Board of Education at next Tuesday's election. More than 20,000 sample ballots have been printed and will be distributed this week that the electors may know exactly how to vote for these two candidates. There are three blank spaces on the school board ticket. Write the names of E. C. Jackson and Conrad Roth in two of these blank spaces and place an X opposite their names. Remember the X is absolutely necessary. A sample ballot is printed below—cut it out, take it with you to the booth and you will then make no mistake as to how to vote.

On th' Auto Outlook

THE AUTO CONGESTION AROUND THE FAIRY GROTTO THEATER ANY NIGHT

As a GENERAL thing statistics on fingers make pretty dry reading, but Tell Blinky has summed up the automobile industry in this country in one of the most astounding and amusing articles we've ever waded through. For instance he says that sales of pleasure cars have long since surpassed the sales of all other articles that enter into our daily lives with the exception of cigars, and it's pretty broad. Then we read:

For ever' family that crosses the continent in a automobile th' railroad don't lose nothin', as the family wouldn't have started if it hadn't had a car.

There's more folks payin' five dollars a month on cars than voted for Gov. Cox in 1920.

The number of cars stolen each day is greater than the male population of th' Straits Settlements.

There's more criminals escape in high powered cars annually than th' combined population of th' United States.

There's two million times as many inhabitants in Bombay as there's pedestrians in this country.

Th' number of cars parked around th' average country town courthouse on Saturday night is three an' one-half times greater than th' population of th' Orinoco Islands.

Th' peak of th' auto industry won't be reached till 1925, when th' replacement demand'll exceed three an' one-third million cars of all types annually, or enough t' insure full runnin' time for ever' industrial allied with th' auto business.

There's two-thirds as many automobile companies as there are French dry cleaners in America.

There's enough color varnish used on autos ever' workin' day t' float away in the air.

For ever' nickel that goes for washin' an' sewin' machines in this country nine dollars is rung up for gasoline.

There's enough steel goes int' th' making of th' gears annually t' build two hundred an' thirty-nine new fire-proof movie theaters.

There's twice over as many auto prospects in th' United States t' day as there are zebras in German East Africa an' Uganda combined.

There's enough auto speedometer cables in commission in Iowa alone t' reach around Australia once an' a half.

Th' foot energy expended on auto accelerators on a single party Sunday in th' middle states is ninety thousand times as great as th' combined horse-power of Niagara Falls an' th' Roosevelt dam.

More cars are owned in th' immediate vicinity of Danville, Indiana, than are owned in Denmark.

There's more automobile publicity men than there are inhabitants in th' Malay Archipelago.

There's two hundred an' fifty-one thousand more closed cars in commission east of th' Mississippi river than there are used parlors throughout th' nation.

Th' decrease in pedestrians in th' United States is three per cent greater than th' annual decrease in traffic.

Navy Aviator Attains the Fastest Speed Ever Made

MITCHELL FIELD, N. Y., Nov. 3.—(By the A. P.)—The fastest speed ever attained by man was made today by Lieut. H. J. Brown, Navy aviator, who flew over a three kilometer straightaway course four times at an average speed of 239.15 miles an hour. On one leg of the course he traveled at the phenomenal rate of 245.21 miles an hour.

Brown's record was attained in competition with Lieut. A. J. Williams, former pitcher of the New York Giants baseball club, and winner of the Pulitzer race, both men flying Navy Curtiss planes. Brown was second in the Pulitzer contest, flying at 237.42 miles an hour, and Williams was seen in the air, intent on beating that record. When his plane reached the ground he found he had flown 238.61 miles an hour. As he was being congratulated Brown ran to his plane.

"What the propeller, boys?" he shouted to his mechanics, "I'm going after it!"

Crowd Is Thrilled.

The spectators held their breath as his plane shot through the air and the thrill of the day came on the second leg when, flying over the field, he sent his machine at the breath-taking clip of nearly five miles a minute.

"Pretty good, Brown," said Williams.

Fall Wanted Naval Officer
Sent Out of Washington

WASHINGTON, Nov. 3.—(By the A. P.)—Former Secretary Fall denounced the transfer from Washington of naval officers who objected to leases he proposed to make on naval oil reserves, Commander H. A. Stuart of the Navy testified today before the Senate Public Lands Committee investigating the subject.

Commander Stuart said Secretary Fall had insisted that Secretary Denby should detach him and Commander Shattuck and send them out of Washington.

The witness said the demand was made after the two officers had presented to Mr. Fall their objection to the granting of certain leases which would transfer from Washington to the United States Navy Company to open wells on Naval Reserve No. 1, in California.

During the period the Navy Department had complete control over the reserves without development. Commander Stuart asserted, which made it desirable in his judgment to transfer their administration to the Interior Department.

An naval officer, Commander Stuart testified, had approved the transfer.

Another witness was Frederick G. Clapp, one of the two geologists who investigated conditions at Tenop.

Republic Of Turkey
Outlines Point In Its Changed Estate

WASHINGTON, Nov. 3.—An interesting description of the organization of the new republic of Turkey was reported by Rear Admiral Bristol, American High Commissioner at Constantinople, in forwarding to the State Department today a communication from Adnan Bey, representative of the Ankara government at Constantinople.

"The form of the Turkish state is republican," the communication said, "its religion Moslem, and its official language Turkish. The president of the republic, who is the chief of state, is elected by the grand national assembly from among its members for the period for which the members of the assembly are elected; and in this quality he presides wherever he judges it necessary over the assembly and the council of ministers. The prime minister is chosen from among the members of the grand national assembly by the president of the republic who chooses as well the other ministers from among the members of the same assembly. The council of ministers thus constituted is presented by the president of the republic for the approval of the assembly. This approval is postponed until a meeting of the grand national assembly if the latter is not in session."

It was in this language that the American government was advised of the transformation of the Turkish government from a monarchy to that of the newest republican form of government.

SLAYER IS COMMITTED
TOLEDO, O., Nov. 3.—Lewis Behring of Delta, confessed slayer of his brother-in-law, Meek Garmon, was committed to the state hospital for the criminal insane, at Lima, today by Probate Judge Barbour of Waukegan, on recommendation of physicians and Prof. A. W. Tredwell of Toledo University. It was said that while Gehring was all right mentally now, he was insane when he murdered his relative and the insane condition would recur.

Agricultural Notes

EDITORIAL NOTE—These articles are written by an expert and The Times unhesitatingly advises their careful reading. They will be of great profit to you.

MANY NEW POULTRY DEMONSTRATORS

Improvement in the methods of poultry management is the main object in the project offered by the poultry department of the Ohio State University in co-operation with the local farm bureau, which becomes effective November 1 of each year.

The flock owner agrees to keep a complete record of the egg production, income and expenses and report monthly to the county agricultural agent on blanks supplied by the extension service. And follows as closely as possible suggestions by the extension specialist on care and management. The specialist meets at least twice a year with the co-operator and furnishes literature on seasonal topics throughout the year.

Records are summarized annually and incomes determined.

The demonstrators in this county the past year were Joseph Lang, Dougwood Ridge; E. B. Lange, Pine Creek; Howard Compton, Buena Vista; A. H. Jones, Orway; John Goodman, Scioto town; F. M. Alley, P. P. Cove; Mrs. J. H. Woodell, Sherbourne; Blue Run; Gladys Seely and Joseph Boynton, Haverhill; Mrs. John Wiley and Mrs. D. Clark, Union township.

After the satisfactory completion of one year's work in this project the co-operator is eligible to enter his flock for certification by the Ohio State University.

Entries may be made with County Agent W. P. Galm until November 20, providing egg and feed records are kept on the flock beginning November 1, or with one of the following poultry chairmen in the county: Howard Compton, C. C. Potts, Mrs. D. Clark, Mrs. Lucy Fullerton, A. H. Jones, Smith, Graft, E. B. Lange, F. S. Alley and Frank Knore.

A meeting of all the demonstrators for the past year and those beginning this year will be held at the farm bureau office Saturday, November 20, beginning at 10 a. m., at which time last year's records will be summarized and discussed and the method of record-keeping thoroughly explained to the new co-operators.

Seven hundred boys and girls scattered over Ohio's 88 counties will visit Columbus at the expense of their counties November 19 to 21. Among this number are seven boys and girls from Scioto county who were first prize winners in the following respective projects. They are: Forrest Campbell, Sedan, poultry; Earl Bennett, Minford, Pig Club; breeding class; Charles Schnitzler, Sedan, market class; Fred N. Bohn, Haverhill, first year food club; Juana Beyer, Haverhill, second year food club; Ruth Oles, Willing Workers' Club, third year food club; Bertha Vanhook, Fairwood, Thrift Club, first year clothing club.

The ninth annual club week has been set for those dates, and the Ohio State University will play host to these 700 youngsters, who were named county champions in one of the fourteen projects carried on this season under the guidance of extension specialists, county agents and local leaders.

Three things form the basis of the club week program, according to state club leaders: First, instruction, chiefly by active demonstration rather than by lecture, in the club projects; second, recreation and entertainment; third, a chance to see the university and the city's points of interest.

Buy county champions, for example, will see an extension specialist go through a pen of market hogs and show which animals are "typical" and which are not worth raising for market. Then the animals will be slaughtered and their carcasses brought back so that the boys may learn what kind of carcass goes best on the market.

The girls, meanwhile, will witness play the high spot in the clothing and nutrition projects. At another hour they will hear a woman who knows pictures tell what pictures are worth having in the home and how to select them. A floral expert will give a talk on floral arrangement.

Evenings and a good share of the day sessions will be given to entertainment and recreation. This program includes time for games, social gatherings, general talks by prominent Ohioans and sight-seeing tours of the university campus and the city.

Ex-Crown Prince Is Still At Wieringen

DOORN, Nov. 3.—(By the A. P.) The former German crown prince, Friedrich Wilhelm, has not returned to Germany, but is still at Wieringen, according to information from different sources reaching here.

It is confirmed that he is keenly desirous of going to his estate in upper Silesia, but the German minister at The Hague is understood to have connected him not to take the step.

Princess Hermine, wife of the former emperor, is said by members of the latter's household to be very favorable to the plan and to have made all preparations for a visit to Silesia.

Stumbo Fined; Car Held

A man giving his name as Ben Stumbo came to grief yesterday as after he had been nabbed by county officers for speeding a search of his automobile revealed the presence of a half pint of moonshine liquor. He pleaded guilty to both charges and Judge Morgan passed him a fine of $25 and costs on the speeding charge and $100 and costs for possessing the forbidden liquor.

The sheriff is further investigating why Stumbo had two sets of license plates, one Ohio and the other Indiana, for the Ohio touring car he was driving. The machine is being held at the sheriff's office.

Drives Off Bandits
Who Sought His Roll;
Assailants Escape

CINCINNATI, OHIO, Nov. 3.—With $1,000 in his pocket, Frank Kennedy, 48, of this city, successfully resisted a daring attack and holdup by three armed automobile bandits today within several feet of them.

He came out of the fight with a broken scalp, the result of a blow over the head by a blacklock or the butt of a revolver, but in his pocket remained the money.

The holdup men jumped into an automobile and made their escape when Kennedy screamed for help.

On October 5, Kennedy was arrested on a charge of operating a racing handbook and was convicted in Municipal Court.

Gibson Fined

Elmer Gibson, colored, arrested on a drunkenness charge at Tenth and Minding streets, Thursday night, was fined $11.20 in Municipal court.

Building Material
Is Reported Stolen

Oscar Boyer of Third street notified the sheriff's office Friday that a truck load of building material had been stolen from where he had stored it, near the Wizard Oil bridge east of Wheelersburg.

Warning
to WORKINGMEN of OHIO Vote "NO"

on Constitutional Amendment and Save Compensation Law

The amendment proposes to take out of the Constitution your right of jury trial when Safety Laws are violated.

Do you want to surrender this precious right of jury trial? If not—vote "NO."

The title on ballot is misleading as it seems to provide additional compensation—but would in fact provide smaller compensation, less than one-fourth of what an injured workman can now receive if he is injured by violation of any Safety Law.

The result of amendment would be—not only decreased compensation to the crippled workman—but also decreased safety law protection.

The present constitution gives Compensation and Safety.

The amendment would destroy one-half the compensation act by tearing out its great Safety clause—the right of jury trial.

MARY, MARY, QUITE CONTRARY. America's little sweetheart donned this fetching get-up during rehearsal for her latest picture entitled "Rosita" in which she appears as half-crazed because of her lover's execution. But mere costume couldn't fool us. We knew it was Mary Pickford all the time. Didn't we?

SPEED, AND NOTHING ELSE BUT. These two naval hydroplanes are zipping down the home course and leaving the War College far in the background. Photo provides an excellent study of the aerial fighters while aloft and in close pursuit of each other.

RUNNING BEFORE THE WIND WITH A BONE IN HER TEETH. Choppy seas mean nothing to the Canadian defender Buenose, shown here half awash with her sails belled in a strong head gale. Twice winner of the international fishermen's race for the Halifax Herald trophy, the trim little craft is the pride and heart's delight of the entire Nova Scotia fleet. Note members of the crew clinging to supports as the clipper ploughs along near the finish line, leaving a frothy trough in her wake.

CUTTING HIGH CAPERS. This personable young person dares gravely in a fantastic high fling along the coping of one of New York's skyscrapers. A slip means death. But what cares she, so long as the urge of the dance is satisfied.

NO, IT'S NOT SATURDAY IN DOGDOM. Greet Mutt, the canny canine caddy, retrieving a lost golf ball which has just sunk to the bottom of this water hazard at the Nocton Country Club, near Nashville, Tenn. Clever stuff, we call it. Eh?

MISSIN' BUGSLI, GETCHA IF— Behold the fair and comely Senorita Maria Conesa, who hails from Mexico City and the land of hot tomatos. She's credited with many eccentric affairs, our correspondent reports. Isn't she the very little dickens though?

FORE! MR. MAN IN THE MOON. Better duck your head for Miss Betty Ivée, Washington debutante, who's shown here winding up for a wicked drive off the first tee. This young lady is said to be as at home on the golf course as on the ball room floor in dinner dress.

HOLD YOUR HORSES! Miss Betty Tanner, mounted on "Pendant" is shown coming down the home stretch in the four-mile Tower Plate steeplechase held at Newmarket, Eng. The event is a yearly classic, established in 1665 by King Charles II. Betty is the first woman ever to ride in it, and finished third amid great cheers.

SHE'LL TELL THE WORLD. Mrs. Cyril Turner, not satisfied to be a mere aviatrix, now proposes going into training for the more difficult role of sky writer just like her husband. Scribbling in the clouds would be just lots of fun, this daring young person believes.

HERE'S A FUNNY BIRD FOR YOU. Of manner strange and habits wild, the heronbill shown herewith, enjoys nothing so much as a quiet siesta atop a rock pile where he makes little ones out of big ones, meanwhile giving vent to some of his tragic cries. Photo taken for American Museum of Natural History, New York.

AND THE THIRD SHALL BE FIRST. Chubby little Richard Greve III, waves goodbye to guests who have come to the dock to wish himself and mother, the socially prominent Mrs. Therese Greve of New York, Godspeed on their trip to Europe for a holiday.

STAND BY THE POLICE

THE TIMES fails to see wherein the republican campaign committee hopes to get anywhere by its assaults upon the police department, unless it be to cater to the feeling prevailing in certain classes at all times, against the representatives of law and order. It is clear to anyone who has taken trouble to observe, that the Portsmouth police department has been functioning for the past three years in a most efficient manner. Under the direction of Chief Joseph H. Distel it has been enforcing the law, it has been alert, brave and effective. We submit that it would be hard to find anywhere a more orderly or better policed city than Portsmouth. With the means at hand, the city has been well covered and adequate protection given to life and property. The administration of affairs has been satisfactory to every one in the city, except possibly a few people who, however, would not be satisfied with anything that was not two hundred per cent. perfection. And, of course, the republican campaign committee is never satisfied with anything—not even itself.

Rather than being a reproach to Mayor Gableman's administration, we feel that the police department is a distinct credit to it, and should be approved by the voters. The present police administration is better than anything that preceded it in the past 20 years. It is infinitely better than anything that could possibly come in the future if Ralph Calvert is elected mayor and he carries out his reported plans to make Howard Runyon director of public safety and "Chunky" Zeigler chief of the police department.

RALPH IS FUMIGATED

NOW that Mr. Ralph Calvert, republican candidate for mayor, has received an official health certificate from the Ku Klux Klan organizer, we suppose the municipal campaign can proceed on its merry way to the grand climax next Tuesday. But we cannot refrain from wondering why this public fumigation is deemed necessary. So far as this valuable journal or civilization knows, no one has publicly accused Mr. Calvert of having Ku Kluxitis, the pip, chicken pox, measles or other infantile diseases. Being of a curious turn of mind, however, we would love to have Mr. Calvert now write a card and marvel at the fact that the Kluxers, while publicly repudiating him, are privately supporting him One Hundred per cent strong. Ralph seems, to a man up a tree, to have all the Kluxers have to give except the robe and mask.

ALL PULL TOGETHER

A FINE community spirit was manifested by the local federation of trades, the Business Men's Exchange and the plumbers, all unanimously declaring in favor of the proposition to issue bonds to build a new county jail. It is not possible to conceive how a more convincing evidence of the immediate need of such a structure could be presented than the united demand of these bodies make for one.

True, they are but stating a fact that is evident to anyone, who knows anything at all about the present jail, but their action makes clearer the immediate need. For if the old building were not a flagrant affront to their sense of humanity and local decency they would not be moved to consider it more, than passively.

Every citizen should come to consider with these bodies that we not only owe something to our unfortunate fellows, but we owe something to our own community and our own pride.

Strangers judge all the people of a community by the way that community appears. Portsmouth has fine school buildings, she has creditable churches, but these are built by the city alone, and by them will the city itself be judged. The court house is a passing disgrace—soon a splendid one will begin to go up; the jail is an affront and a shame. These belong to the county. The county, as a whole will be measured by them, not to her credit. Yet, Scioto is a big county, a county constantly developing, not only in the city, but in her farming interests as well, developing there far more rapidly and importantly than most conceive. The city, as a part thereof, is evidently of mind that there shall be no reproach upon the county because of the character of its public buildings. Surely the county should be as much interested in this matter, have as much pride therein as the city. What is the benefit of one is the benefit of the other: what is the good fame of one is the good fame of the other. Hand in hand they should both go to the polls, next Tuesday, and vote for the jail bond issue.

Without qualification, the workmen's compensation act was the best legislation placed in the Ohio statutes in a generation. A supreme court decision has knocked it out almost completely. Your vote is needed, next Tuesday, to restore it. Vote yes on the first amendment you will find on the constitutional ballot.

SOMETHING TO REMEMBER

ONE of the deplorable things that would result from the election of Mr. Calvert as mayor next Tuesday would be the tripping-up of the water works department and the replacement of the unusually competent and faithful employees in that branch of the city service by men whose main qualifications are that they are party heelers. For instance John Herman, chief of the water works engineers, is slated to go if Calvert is elected. Mr. Herman found the water works plant a junk shop. He has brought it up almost to perfection. No better man anywhere could be found for this responsible and difficult position. Yet Mr. Herman will be displaced if there is a change in administration. That is something for you to think about, Mr. Voter, when you go to the polls next Tuesday. As you mark your ballot, think what would have happened Friday night when the Turley building was ablaze if incompetency had reigned at the city water works plant!

THE PERSONAL BUSINESS OF ALL

THE political views of a candidate for city office ought not to make a particle of difference as to the favor or disfavor with which he is regarded. The sole question ought to be:

"What sort of an official will he make; what will be the character and result of his administration?"

His party alliance should really make no difference, because party policies have no place in municipal affairs, can not be applied to them.

Municipal government is all a simple matter of costs to and effects upon the municipality, the people themselves, as a whole.

And there is no better way of judging these things, anticipating them, than by what has gone before.

We know that the administration immediately preceding that of Mayor Gableman and in which his opponent was a main cog-service director—was always in hot water, so to speak. It ran the city hospital behind, it ran the water works behind, it ran the general expenses of the city behind. It set a constant stream of overdraws and deficiency notes and obligations. It left most of the important funds with deficits to pay up when it went out.

Mayor Gableman changed these conditions and these results, in time, radically, completely, he reversed them completely. He kept expenses within revenues, the hospital was made to pay it own way and the water works to return an annual profit instead of an annual loss.

He did this because he brought unflinching economy in expenditures and business principles to the affairs of the city. What a man has done he can do again and most probably will. Mayor Gableman has made Portsmouth the one city in Ohio of which no talk is heard that it is going bankrupt. He will hold her that way steadily if he is elected.

His opponent was connected with an administration that was running her along with the other cities towards bankruptcy. What will he do if he is elected?

Politics are a mighty strange thing. Here are the Republican progressives all fussed up because Frank B. Kellogg has been appointed ambassador to England. Kellogg is one of the ablest men in the country, a great lawyer and a man of fine character. All these the progressives admit, but they say he is a conservative and mild league of nations advocate. Being qualified in the big essentials, what does it matter that in minor things he has views that do not fit with those of some others?

New York=Day=By=Day

BY O. C. MCINTYRE

NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—Night shopping is growing in popularity in the Tenderloin. The all night millinery, shoe and jewelry shops are becoming settled institutions between Columbus Circle and Herald Square. They are very smart places.

The first all night shoe shop was opened near the Winter Garden by Abe Attell, the pugilist. It was decorated in Japanese style and ten for patrons were always brewing. The biggest patronage came from the chorus girls and ladies of the evening.

Following this a young woman of vaudeville started an all night millinery shop. Her windows were decorated with pictures of stage folks bearing inscriptions that her hats were just perfectly lovely. There are now four nocturnal millinery establishments.

There came other shoe shops and jewelry stores, the latter specializing in wrist watches, drop earrings, bracelets and cigarette holders. It is rumored that in a few of these places illicit merchandise is sold to those in the know.

There are two rush hours in the all night stores. The first rush begins shortly after the play. Young men who have been waiting at stage doors are fully armed just the alluring windows. There is a considerable amount of trickery between the proprietor and the chorus girl. In the presence of her escort she may inquire if her shoes, hat or jewelry is ready for her. It has always just arrived—although the young lady may have never been in the place before. Business of going through her purse. She has left her money at home.

The sap leaps joyously to the rescue. O, she couldn't think of permitting him to do that. But in the end she is persuaded and goes on her way and Bertie wanders off. He has enough left for the midnight sandwich.

The second rush hour follows the closing of the supper clubs around 12 o'clock. The patrons are in a more generous buying mood. "Besh little pal a fellow ever had. Give her a half dozen hats," is frequently heard.

For those who hunger for food with a zip after three o'clock in the morning, a Mexican chili con carne establishment has opened at 157 Seventh Avenue near 47th street. It is decorated like a Mexican adobe hut and the proprietor has fierce mustaches.

She is one of the stars, beautiful who has filled many newspaper columns with accounts of her purititudinous triumphs. A millionaire is said to have given her a mansion for her smile. Her name has decorated the back of bars and theatre fronts. Despite all this, it has been difficult to induce a hesitant public to fill the theatre to watch her act. No one has been able to fathom this. She is a striking brunette—tall, graceful.

and talented. The other day her manager told me she was soon to forsake the stage, a broken-hearted woman. She is now obsessed with the idea that a conspiracy was hatched by producers to turn the public against her.

The most popular dish in a very fine French cafe is the minute steak. It is listed as "American minute steak."

The man who repeats the movie captions aloud next to me in a theatre. Finally an usher came to him, tapped him on the shoulder and asked for perfect quiet. When the lights came on a rather embarrassed group—including myself—left the man who was causing the mild disturbance. On either side of him sat a blind boy.

THE SKY-LARK'S MESSAGE

Early morn the lark soars high,
Up to the bright blue sky;
He sings his merry lay
To gladden the new day.

As I hear his merry songs,
Gone are all the faded wrongs,
In their place comes the love
Of the Father above.

Oh, little singing lark!
To thy music we'll ring,
And make the joy-bells ring,
As of God's love we sing.

—Kate L. Vigus.

The Woman of It

May—How did you happen to take up Dick all of a sudden?

Fay—He goes so well with my new spring suit.

Profit and Loss

A domestic disaster had occurred in the household and ten-year-old Bobbie had been sent on a hurry call to bring the family physician.

Doctor, doctor," he cried.

"My little brother's swallowed a quarter.

Would it pay to have you take it out?"

Our Own Mother Goose

Old Mother Hubbard,
She went to the cupboard,
And reached for a jug of home brew.
But the officer spied her
And sat down beside her
And said, "I don't care if I do."

Question Answered

The old lady tourist in Florida was interestedly viewing a monster alligator, and finally demanded of the attendant:

"You say you don't have to feed him very often. What kind of food does he like best?"

"Babies, ma'am," replied the man mildly.

"Why, mercy me, how horrible!"

Bootlegger like Lark certainly takes care of his customers. He's giving Joe Kise accordion lessons. He'll give him a tin cup later on. The difference between a big, clumsy, eight-mil, per-gallon, seven-pennyworth automobile and a social standard is that we kin put 'em up fer 'er 'er 'er.

Twenty-Four Years Ago

Perry L. Prindle, 40, Pickaway county farmer, obtained a license to wed Abbie Brown, 34, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Levi Brown of Madison township.

Mrs. Mary A. Eaves, mother of the Misses Agnes and Lydia Eaves, well known Chillicothe street milliners, died at her home on East Third street.

The big C. P. & V. bridge over the Miami river at Batavia, was almost entirely destroyed by fire. The blaze originated from coals from a passing engine.

A very unique epitaph was chiseled on the Doctor Jones' monument in Greenlawn cemetery, as follows: "Here dissolves the house that sheltered the Altruistic spirit of the beloved embodiment of benevolent righteousness of Maria J. Dunbar Jones, wife of J. B. Carter, Liberated November 1, 1836, aged 62 years and one day."

Damage Slight
The Chillicothe bus and an oil truck loaded with barrels were slightly damaged in a collision at Eleventh and Chillicothe streets, Friday noon.

BERTON BRALEY'S DAILY POEM

As Nature Intended
(By Bertion Braley)

THE bee was meant to be a bee,
Her industry is quite amazing;
But since she cannot help it, she Deserves no praising.

THE antics of the ant we view,
She does her work and seems
To love it,
Just as Dame Nature meant her to.
Well, then what of it?

WE don't expect the bee or ant
To specialize on grace or beauty.
It is enough, we freely grant,
To do their duty.

YET some folks frown at butterflies.
And solemnly point out that these are
Imprudent and far from wise
As ants and bees are.

OH well, the bright-hued butterfly
Reminds a lovely thing to see:
The ant's an ant, we can't deny.
The bee a bee;
